

Any Day

dhruv

Any day
I tell myself before midnight strikes
Dark blue stains
All on my palms and all in my mind
Yeah I'll wait and hold out for a God-given sign
On your way
Any day

A couple of hundred lonely hours
Head full of doubt
Pacing up and down the bedroom
Where are you?
A couple of dozen excuses out
Everyone's asking me
If you're gonna be soon
Well, are you?

"Any day"
I tell myself before midnight strikes
Dark-blue-stains
All on my palms and all in my mind
Yeah I wait
And hold out for a God-given sign
You're on your way
Any day now

A house in the canyon
A desert wind
Drove out the city
And listened to radio silence
Thought maybe I'd find you there
The more that I want you
The more you slip away
And I bet that you're watching
Me chase my tail

"Any day"
I tell myself before midnight strikes
Dark-blue-stains
All on my palms and all in my mind
Yeah I wait
And hold out for a God-given sign
On your way
Any day

You were once my saviour
Won't you come and save me now?
You were once my saviour
Won't you come and save me now?
