

Tragedy

dhruv

Trying not to think about it
But I always do
Playing out the scene in my head
On an endless loop
Feeling like the main character
But in my own
Tragedy

Under the canopy
Your coffee shop in November
Set of the tragedy
A painful day to remember
I can't believe
The way you had to break it to me
Walking on eggshells
The pauses in conversation
Part of the last act
Cold yolks left on the table
No I can't believe it
Didn't take too long to forget it
Couldn't look at me when you said it

See I'm trying not to think about it
But I always do
Playing out the scene in my head
On an endless loop
Feeling like the main character
But in my own
Tragedy
Why'd you do this to me, do this to me?

You said you found someone
And you left my beating heart on the floor
You said you found someone
And I told you that I'm happy on my own
But I'm not
Why'd you do this to me?

Like I needed reminding
This life is poetry without the rhyming
You waltz in galleries with your new man
And I watch from under the covers
In a bed that's not seen a lover
Since you left

That I'm trying not to think about it
But I always do
Playing out the scene in my head
On an endless loop
Feeling like the main character
But in my own
Tragedy
Why'd you do this to me, do this to me?

You said you found someone
And you left my beating heart on the floor
You said you found someone

And I told you that I'm happy on my own
But I'm not
Why'd you do this to me?
Why'd you do this to me?

Why'd you do this to me?

'Cause I'm trying not to think about it
But I always will
For an empty thrill
Feeling like the main character
But in my own
Tragedy
Why'd you do this to me, do this to me?

Again and again and again and again
Again and again and again and again
Again and again and again and again
