

Blind For You

DI-RECT

I see your shadow coming closer and watch you drifting out me I know you will make it on your own you can run out of everything and everything is you

I must've missed that you were leaving
I saw your lipstick on the mirror right here
All off a sudden it was all clear You just ran out of everything and everything's said

But did you know I was blind for you Did you know 'bout the fantasies I had and where the answers won't come around
I blame myself for being me again and again

I'm surrounded by your photographs I guess I'll never learn about today's and will I ever learn? I wonder I would run after anything and anything is not you

But did you know I was blind for you
Did you know 'bout the fantasies I had
And where the answers won't come around
I blame myself for being me again and again
I've must missed your call, I missed it all

But did you know I was blind for you Did you know you meant everything to me and if I had one more change, this time I would have meant the world to you

I blame myself for being such a fool
