

Time Will Heal Our Senses

DI-RECT

If the winner takes it all
Are the others bound to fall
It's our inner self reflection
That will need to get involved
So if you ever feel deranged
There's another day for change
And if you gather your emotions
You will never lose your way

Rise and take your chances
Time will heal our senses

From the minute that we're born
To each other we belong
Giving lovin' and affection
Just to make you feel at home

Rise and take your chances
Time will heal our senses
