

Misunderstood

Dia Frampton

Maybe if I'm quiet it'll just go away
But I've been feeling underwater most of these days
Take a walk smoke a blunt call my mom holiday
I feel more alone like nobody is safe

And no one ever really wants you speaking your mind
But it feels lonely saying what they want all the time
Park my car go inside take a breath I'm so tired
I'm seeing through a filter and I'm walking a wire

I feel misunderstood like I'm talking to myself
Can anybody see that I can't seem to help myself
I'm trying to be okay, but this feels like a dream
Am I the only one that thinks that things aren't what they seem

I feel misunderstood
I feel misunderstood
I feel misunderstood
I feel misunderstood
I feel misunderstood

(I feel misunderstood)
I feel misunderstood
(I feel misunderstood)
I feel misunderstood

I hate to admit it but I can't wait to sleep
Cause some days are really really getting to me
Fill the void binge watch then I eat too much
Oh, God here I go say no I'm drunk
And now I'm alright, I'm just fine just in time

I feel misunderstood like I'm talking to myself
Can anybody see that I can't seem to help myself
I'm trying to be okay, but this feels like a dream
Am I the only one that thinks that things aren't what they seem

I feel misunderstood
I feel misunderstood
I feel misunderstood
I feel misunderstood
I feel misunderstood

(I feel misunderstood)
I feel misunderstood, oh
(I feel misunderstood)
I feel misunderstood
