Together As Lost

Diablo

Your devotion for this new faith Makes me sick, makes me see red Behold that human sacrifice On the altar of publicity

Fourteen years on the road Straight to hell and now I have, I have this story to tell

You must be blind cos you can't see this
The thin line between their love and hate exists
But your way of life is something
Something that no one can fix

Fourteen years on the road Straight to hell and now I have, I have this story to tell

Now you have gone too far You've become a pathetic Portrait of mankind Searching for the sensation at any cost You and your two faced god Are now together as lost

Fourteen years on the road Straight to hell and now I have, I have this story to tell

Now you have gone too far
You've become a pathetic
Portrait of mankind
Searching for the sensation at any cost
You and your two faced god
Are now together as lost
Together as lost
