

Burns

Diamante

You lit up the sky when it was all dark
With no sense of time we lived off a spark
I wouldn't have guessed that it'd come to this
That you'd strike a match that turns to ashes

All I wanted was you
Just to let me through

You made me so broken
You made me feel all of this pain
You poured down over my skin
And left burns like acid rain

I gave you my all and I stood beside you
But I took the fall and you never held on to
This faith that maybe I really did love you
It wasn't enough, maybe I was just fooled

All I wanted was you
Just to let me through

You made me so broken
You made me feel all of this pain
You poured down over my skin
And left burns like acid

And now I have these burns that just won't leave me now
They're black marks on my skin of what we lost somehow
I made it through your fire, I finally made it out
But now I have these burns that just won't leave me now

You made me so broken
You made me feel all of this pain
You poured down over my skin
And left burns, whoa

You made me so broken
You made me feel all of this pain
You poured down over my skin
