

The Scream

Diary of Dreams

What is?
What was?
Where is that vivid look?
We came, we saw what all these visions took!
They cry in fear hoping for mercy and how you scream, you beg for silence

Whatever happens please foresee, only trust your enemy
Whatever happens please foresee,
only trust your memory

Confront me with this sort of madness, unkind indeed to be this helpless
I know, I want my little world back, this place of light where life is intact

No heart, no pain
I think I am insane
So still my shell
One step closer to hell
My rage, my hate have a rendezvous with fate
My fear stays here, you needles come too late