Didn't feel so cold and tired stretched out before the fire Rolling smokes and drinking up her wine

And I remember candle light and singin' till we couldn't sing n o more

Then falling warm asleep on Susan's floor

Now that my song is sweeter Lord I'd like to greet her

And thank her for the flavors that she gave

A stranger I came my head bowed in the rain to her door

I sat and sang my songs on Susan's floor

In the morning I'd go on buying kingdoms with my songs

Knowing I'd be back in just a while healing in the sunshine of her smile

Well lots of times and songs have passed I catch myself just lo oking back

Reliving all the wonder of those nights

That's where I'd be today if I had only stay one night more And sang another song on Susan's floor

Like crippled ships that made it through storm and finally reac hed a quiet shore

The homeless found a home on Susan's floor hmm hmm
