

Something Worth Fixing

Dierks Bentley

Oil in the driveway
Soaked up with sand
Orange soap in the kitchen
Takes the grease off my hands
And I've seen goodbye
On the tip of your tongue
Baby, tell me what's broken
But don't tell me we're done

'Cause life's full of potholes and band-aids and stitches
Hammers on thumbnails and sons of a bitches
Bass boats and two strokes and ornery small engines
I'm always workin' on something
Something worth fixing

If your heart's in pieces
And it's hurting like mine
If you've got the patience
Honey, I've got the time

'Cause life's full of potholes and band-aids and stitches
Hammers on thumbnails and sons of a bitches
Bass boats and two strokes and ornery small engines
I'm always workin' on something
Something worth fixing

Could be a 5"8 or half inch I guess
I'm beyond repair when you put on that dress
Some things require a little attention
A wrench and a prayer and divine intervention

'Cause life's full of potholes and band-aids and stitches
Hammers on thumbnails and sons of a bitches
Bass boats and two strokes and ornery small engines
I'm always workin' on something
Yeah, something worth fixing
Something worth fixing
We're something worth fixing
