

Angel Face

Diesel

Angel face- I see you smiling as you slumberyou're so much wiser than a number What's behind those eyes my face of an angel angel face- your w ords they cool me just like water-they sent you down as someone's daughter
But I know those eyes- they're a face of an angel angel
You know you've given me a reason
When all the treachery and treason it just fades away
With the face of an angel

Angel face- you know the secrets of the seasons-in mother natur es private legion there they hold a place-for a face of an ange l everyone sees the stars that shine in your hair
When you're asleep that's heavens smile that you wear

Angel
You know you've given me a reason
When all the treachery and treason it just fades away
With the face of an angel

Angel
Your words they cool me just like water
They sent you down as someone's daughter but I know those Eyes- they're a face of an angel

Angel
You know you've given me a reason
When all the treachery and treason it just fades away
With the face of an angel

Angel
Your words they cool me just like water
They sent you down as someone's daughter but I know those Eyes- they're a face of an angel
