Woman, you say you're my friend
But you're not my friend
Woman, you say you're my lover
But you're only my friend
You got me to thinking you want me
Then that same thing comes back to haunt me
Woman, you say you're my lover
But you're only my friend

But I won't cry, won't even try
You're just a blur

You love me all night
But you won't see me in the day
I pull up beside you
But it seems you've got nothing to say
But that's all right, 'cause I'm able
To keep my condition stable
Love me all night
But you won't see me in the day, hey!

But I won't cry, won't even try
I won't cry, won't even try

You're just a cloud coming down from the sky
Ready to rain on some other guy
No silver lining, no cotton candy
You're fragile as iron
Catch me watching and you change, yeah

But I won't cry, won't even try
You're just a blur

You're just a blur, hey!
You're just a blur
You're just a blur, hey!
You're just a blur
You're just a blur
You're just a blur, hey!
You're just a blur
You're just a blur
