

Monochrome

Diesel

What's wrong with the picture frame
It doesn't bare resemblance
Brilliant is your big sharade
But I can tell the difference now

Pick up the phone
Answer in monotone

Melody you're not the same
Melody a sad refrain
Melody without any words ow

Nebulus the pills you take
You own define deflections
All excuses that you make
The blood in my distinction

Your colours flown
Yours words in monochrome

Melody you're not the same
Melody a sad refrain
Melody without any words ow

You're waiting for the moment
There's nothing left to say
Undecided you will stay
The lonely little moments

La la la la...

Melody you're not the same
Melody a sad refrain
Melody without any words ow

Speak so softly so they say
Never jump from a moving train now melody
You camouflage so you buy some time
But little will you find the peace of mind
Now melody

Melody (you're not the same)...
