

Pasadena

Diesel

There's a full moon over Pasadena
And it's keeping my baby awake
Seems like we're daydreaming
More than having dream days
There's a full moon over Pasadena

And everything takes time
And time takes everything
The more the choir starts to fade
The louder that we sing
We've got to make this love
Like a fighter in the ring
And everything takes time
And time takes everything

I know what it's like
When you get that feeling
It comes in the night
For to take you away

Somehow it's bigger than
It is in the light of day
But I know what it's like
When you get that feeling

And everything takes time
And time takes everything
The more the choir starts to fade
The louder that we sing
We've got to make this love
Like a fighter in the ring
And everything takes time
And time takes everything

Ooh yeah
Takes everything
Ooh yeah

And everything takes time
And time takes everything
The more the choir starts to fade
The louder that we sing
We've got to make this love
Like a fighter in the ring
And everything takes time
And time takes everything

Takes everything
Ooh yeah
Takes everything
