

Leaving With A California Tilt

Diffuser

I never thought the day would come when she would say goodbye
She's leaving with a California tilt to live her life Instead, I'm getting tired of holding back the words I want to say

I ran myself into the ground just hoping you would say
She left;

On her own through twisted roads

She left on her own again

(repeat 2x)

Everything has got to end, but good things never leave

A Southern man once told me that love isn't what it means

She left;

On her own through distant roads

She left on her own again

(repeat 2x)

She left on her own;