

Buried Alive

Digital Summer

No good deed ever goes unpunished (Some may say)
Now every day I'm being hunted (How'd it get this way?)
I never asked for this, I mind my own business
My only crime is that I simply exist

And suddenly I'm guilty
Of just trying to survive
Inhale but I can't breathe
It's like I'm being buried alive

Take another look inside myself (I don't like what I see)
Refuse to follow somebody else (Only one I trust is me)
(But I don't believe in the things that I'm seeing)
This life that I've built around these lies is slowly killing me

Keep digging and digging
I just wanna be left alone
Just keep digging and digging
I just wanna be left alone
Keep on digging and digging
Just leave me alone

Suddenly I'm guilty
Of just trying to survive
Inhale but I can't breathe
It's like I'm being buried alive

And I'll dig my way back to the surface
'Cause it takes more than that to try to bury me
And just proving you wrong gives me a purpose
Digging, digging, I'll dig until my fingers bleed

If it's true nobody's innocent
Then face it, we're all fucking hypocrites
Go and judge me now
But here's another stone for your glass house

And suddenly I'm guilty
Of just trying to survive
Inhale but I can't breathe
It's like I'm being buried alive

And I'll dig my way back to the surface
'Cause it takes more than that to try to bury me
And just proving you wrong gives me a purpose
Digging, digging, I'll dig until my fingers bleed

Til my fingers bleed
Buried alive
Buried alive
