

Closer to Me

Digital Summer

Lost among the hours
I barely make it through
It's been far too damn long
Since these eyes have seen you
The further that we fall
Into this unknown
The weaker we become knowing
We are not alone
Who will save us?

When all I want is you
And all you want is me
Forsake the odds against us
And everything between
When distance separates
Me from your heart beat
I'd tear the whole damn world apart
To bring you closer to me

So hollow and helpless
You can barely breathe
And knowing I can't save you
Is slowly killing me
I spend the day in a coma
The nights chemically
Just waiting for the next embrace
Worth all of this suffering

When all I want is you
And all you want is me
Forsake the odds against us
And everything between
When distance separates
Me from your heart beat
I'd tear the whole damn world apart
To bring you closer to me

We wage war with ourselves
We both cut and bleed
Always fighting to remember
Who's the real enemy
And we're just victims
Of this tragic distance between us

When all I want is you
And all you want is me
Forsake the odds against us
And everything between
When distance separates
Me from your heart beat
I'd tear the whole damn world apart
To bring you closer to me (yeah)
Closer to me (yeah)
Closer to me (yeah)
Closer to me
