

So Beautiful, So Evil

Digital Summer

From the moment she laid her eyes on me
I knew how dangerous she could be
Lips like a knife that cut through me
She takes advantage 'cause she knows I'm weak

Come on, she says she knows you want
Come on, come on but then she owns you

And I hate how somehow I always give in
To those lips that can paralyze
Though I know that she is the devil
She's so beautiful, so evil

I can't fight that she controls me
Should have known she'd be so deadly
To touch, to take, to want to need
This desire is torture that I bleed

Come on, she says she knows you want
Come on, come on but then she owns you

And I hate how somehow I always give in
To those lips that can paralyze
Though I know that she is the devil
She's so beautiful, so evil
She's so evil

From Heaven to Hell and everything between
The most evil evil that you've ever seen
Biting her lips she knows it kills me
Skin like a drug but more addictive

And I hate how somehow I always give in
To those lips that can paralyze
Though I know that she is the devil
She's so beautiful, so evil
She's so evil
She's so beautiful, so evil
