

Jon B

Dijon

Been a minute since I've been around
Soon as I touch down started thinking of you and me
Nothing changed since the last time we left
I don't know what I expected
But it was so unexpected
Seeing everything we used to see
And I just drove past the bar
Where you called me after I was working
And you finally were a few weeks in you were freaking
And you were tripping right after 'cause
You were thinking that you might not keep it
And you were asking me about your secret
And if I'd keep it

And I just drove by your block
And it reminds me
Sneaking to your folks
Past midnight listening to Jon B
Hoping that they don't wake up
Hoping that they don't catch us

Memories
Memories get easier to push aside
And I
I'm guilty
Of trying to run but they're catch up with me every time
Been a minute since I've been around
Soon as I touch down I remember you said to me
"I don't wanna just wait around Everybody here gets caught up eventually, eventually..."

And I just drove by your block
And it reminds me (reminiscing)
Sneaking to your folks
Past midnight listening to Jon B
Hoping that they don't wake up
Hoping that they don't catch us
And I just drove by your block
And it reminds me
Sneaking to your folks
Past midnight listening to Jon B (Jon B)
Hoping that they don't wake up
Hoping that they don't catch us

I hope that you can catch up
I hope that you can catch up
I hope that you can catch up
I hope that you can catch up

What songs are you playing tonight from the EP?
This and "Wait"
What else?
"Say Yeah!"
So... So you're just playing every song from the EP, is that the strategy?