

My heart regrets
All my mind neglects
And decides where my love goes next
It forgives but never forgets (My heart, it hurts, it kills)
For every time I've blocked its cries
Making it beat overtime

If you hurt till you hurt me
Till I hurt you
Till you want me
Till you love me
How come
It won't let go and run free
I can't stay or I'll go crazy
This love's too hardcore

Your heart neglects
All my mind regrets
Can't decide which you'll protect
Doesn't know how to avoid threats (Your heart will hurt, will kill)
For every time you've blocked its cries
Leaving your own self behind

If you hurt till you hurt me
Till I hurt you
Till you want me
Till you love me
How come
It won't let go and run free
You can't stay or you'll go crazy
This love's too hardcore

A hard core
Unlikely to change
Unlikely to fear for me
And ignore
The colors of our auras as we fought for one another
So before
We just fight each other and almost destroy each other
To the core
It's a bore
Fight or flight amongst lovers

If I hurt till I hurt you
Till you hurt me
Till I want you
Till I love you
How come
It won't let go and run free
I can't stay or I'll go crazy
This love's too hardcore
