

Changes

Dimas Bilan (Дима Билан)

Isn't it a thing that you said
Isn't it a thing that you've done
Isn't it a thing that I think we could overcome
It's not even a fight we could blame
Lover that I could name
It's harder to take when things ain't so quietly

Slowly they start, cracks in your heart
Till all you know is drifting apart

I'm going through changes
All the things I've had are new
That I wanna hear with you, feel wrong
And you know want's strangest?
I think you feel the same
Don't let guilt make you stay, it's okay
Cause everything changes, changes, changes, yeah

There's nothing in the past I regret
Knowing than I'm man enough for it
I will never want to forget these memories
I'm looking for somebody else
I'm trying to find myself
Its been nice for so long
Who did I used to be

This is a role
I don't want to play
Trying a find a way I can see

I'm going through changes
All the things I've had are new
That I wanna hear with you, feel wrong
And you know want's strangest?
I think you feel the same
Don't let guilt make you stay, it's okay
Cause everything changes (changes), changes, changes, yeah

If we listen to ourselves we'd know
Its time for something new, to start
Cause I heart
Changes, changes, changes

I'm going through changes
All the things I've had are new
That I wanna hear with you, feel wrong
And you know want's strangest?
I think you feel the same
Don't let guilt make you stay, it's okay
Cause everything changes, changes, changes, yeah
