

I Can Hear The Dark

Dimension Zero

As we gathered the filth and covered ourselves in fear
The angels started trembling and the earth moved
We stood there alone in the horrors that devoured our senses
I can hear the dark, can you?

Every other word seems to me by
My face is twitching, still nothing

Am I loosing it?
Has time passed yet?

Did you close your eyes before you left?
Did you get a closer look upon it all?
Should I kill an see
A different death, another life?

I can hear the dark
Can you?
I can face the light
Did you?

So calm, so still
So clean, so dark
