Every night, it's another girl I obsess about my finest dream But I need to feel today, why am I driving you away? Sure not over you So you sit, that's a way to be You don't have to bottom all along But there's things you need to be It all cant come from me Every night we're drifting farther All the love and life is gotta count for something Gotta all pull it together Don't wanna blow it together Sit up and feel strange Solitify a change Sure not over you Piece together, how we've come along Float (flowed[?]) so easily before So it's me that's flakin out Wish I knew what that's about Sure not over you Sure not over you Every night we're drifting farther Vibes so bad I wanna puke All the love in life has gotta count for something right Gotta all pull it together Don't wanna blow it now Sit up and feel strange Solitify the strange And it's me that's flaking out Wish I knew what that's about There's so much I need to be And it's gotta come from (comfort[?]) me Sure not over you Sure not over you
