

I've Been Watching

Dion

I've been watching the sun go down
I've seen miracles all around
I see the future like its riding on the sea
I see forever when you're standing here with me

The years, the tears, the fears you saw me through
I can walk through fire when I'm with you
I've been watching the stars go by
Mark my dreams in the midnight sky

I see tomorrow, and I know the sun will rise
I see it in the stars, I see it in your eyes
The years, the tears, the fears that you saw me through
I can walk through fire when I'm with you

Looking at the red sky like I've never seen before
Everything is looking like a hint of something more
The line of the horizon's not the end of anything
I can fly beyond it when I've got you, got you at my wing, my wing

I've been watching the sun go down
I see miracles all around
I see the future like its riding on the sea
I see forever when you're standing here with me

The years, the tears, the fears you saw me through
I can walk through fire when I'm with you
A thousand times a day you catch my eye
Troubles fall like lightning from the sky
I've been watching the sun go down
I've seen miracles all around (all around)
