

Just One More Night

Dionne Warwick

Just one more night, my love
And all that we believe becomes a lie
And loneliness will disappear
With the tears we cried

How could you leave me believin'
That it's too late to be
All the love the love we were
How can you turn me away
When I stumble in
Help me break your dream of her

I wonder why it's goin' wrong
Never understood the meaning all along
Somehow I believe in ev'rything
Came the warning light
And the story ends
And I'm in love with you baby

Just one more night, my love
And all that we believe becomes a lie

And loneliness will disappear
With the tears we cried

Would you be leaving tomorrow for someone else
While I die for you inside
Can there be one of us, anyone feel no pain
Don't it hurt to say goodbye

It must be right to let it end
I'm playin' with pieces of my heart again
Somehow I believe our love will grow
From the midnight hour to the morning glow
And I believe in you baby
Just one more night, my love

Just one more night, my love
And all that we believe become a lie
And loneliness will disappear with the tears we cried
