

Love Begins With You

Dionne Warwick

You touched me
Like no one has touched me
Deep inside my soul
Where there was a hole
Deeper than the sea

I need you, thought I needed no one
Now there's something new inside me
And it's broken through my pride
Love's come to heal me, this time I won't be denied

Everything begins with you
I give into your sweet love, your complete love
After all that I've been through
I am so grateful that love begins with you

Hey, I don't even mind
The rain no more
I don't care, let it rain
(Go on and let it rain)
Let it pour
(Let it pour)

Everything begins with you
I give into your sweet love, your complete love
Everything begins with you
It lives in you

My love begins with you
My love begins with you
My love begins with you
Everything begins with you
