

One Last Memory

Dionne Warwick

La-la-la-la-la-la-laa

After the years, now it's raining all my tears
You pushed love aside
Counting the times that you said you were mine
Now you say we're through
You went away, it's been so long
Why don't you come home
I need you so

Here was a man who could sure understand what I was about
Ours was a true love and love I was sure, oh
What should we in?
You went away, it's been so long
Why don't you come home
I need you so

All I have is one last memory
To last me the rest of my life
Only left with one last memory
He gave me a part of his life
All I have is one last memory
To last, to last

Love never fades, and I thought I reclaimed my lost paradise
Those were the times that I hold in my mind as I sit alone
Reality returns to me
And at night it's hard
I need you so

All I have is one last memory
To last me the rest of my life
All I have is one last memory
He gave me a part of his life
All I have is one last memory
To last, to last

All I have is one last memory
To last me the rest of my life
Only left with one last memory
Gave me a part of his life

All I have is one last memory
To last me the rest of my life
Only left with one last memory
He gave me a part of his life
All I have is one last memory (memory)
To last me the rest of my life
