

Where My Lips Have Been

Dionne Warwick

Boy, I know we hardly know each other
But you're no stranger to me
We never even spent one night together
But I know you intimately
I've already loved you in my mind
A thousand times or two
Hey, I don't think you'd be so shy
If you only knew

Where my lips have been
In my dreams they kissed you head to toe
Darling, where my lips have been
There's no part of you that they don't know

Now you know just how I'm feeling
The rest is up to you
Are you gonna let me go on dreaming
Or make my dreams come true?
But I think that my imagination
Could use a little help
Don't you wanna share your love with me
And feel it for yourself?

Where my lips have been
In my dreams they kissed you head to toe
Darling, where my lips have been
There's no part of you that they don't know

Oh, I wanna take you to a place
Where you, you've never been
Oh, I wanna take your hand, touch your face
Feel my warmth pressed on your skin

Where my lips have been
In my dreams they kissed you head to toe
Darling, where my lips have been
There's no part of you that they don't know

Oh, I wanna take you to a place
Where you, you've never been
Oh, I wanna take your hand, touch your face
Feel my warmth pressed on your skin

Where my lips have been
In my dreams they kissed you head to toe
Darling, where my lips
Where my lips have been
There's no part of you that they don't know

Darling, don't you wanna know
Wanna know, wanna know
Don't you wanna know
Don't you wanna know
Darling, don't you wanna know
Wanna know, wanna know
Don't you wanna know
Don't you wanna know

Baby, where my lips have been
Baby, where my lips have been
Oh darling, where my lips have been