Soon we will come to the end...

Mankind's madness failed once again

We are caught in a trap

Soon it's to late!

Try to carry on in a world of greed and hate When time is passing by I hope for a brighter day. Try to fight it back while my faith is torn apart By children without hope with eyes that haven't shine since long ago.

Longing for a sign of truth
When greed and hate are vanished, dead and gone
Longing for a sign of truth
When all children laugh and justice has been done...

Secrets forever untold...

I wish we could all be there for you
Make their pain go away!!!

No more silent cries in the end...

Try to carry on in a world of greed and hate When time is passing by I hope for a brighter day. Try to fight it back while my faith is torn apart By children without hope with eyes that haven't shine since long ago.

Longing for a sign of truth
When greed and hate are vanished, dead and gone
Longing for a sign of truth
When all children laugh and justice has been done...
