[English translation:]

It's calmer than usual
The calm morning It filled up in a slippery manner

Waking up
In the obvious bright red pool of blood

The young memory laughs out loud, as it says it still can't forgive
The oh-so-righteous face
Do I have cold eyes?
The young memory cries out loud, as it says it still can't forgive
The oh-so-righteous face
Do I have crazy eyes?

Am I too broken?
From the bottomless starvation
Where shall I plummet?

Hesitating
That kind of worthless determination will go on to infect someone else and i t will sing that song
That's too bad Get the mourning clothes ready

Waking up
In the obvious bright red pool of blood

The young memory laughs out loud, as it says it still can't forgive
The oh-so-righteous face
Do I have cold eyes?
The young memory cries out loud, as it says it still can't forgive
The oh-so-righteous face
Do I have crazy eyes?

Trying to avoid looking at it
That's how far you'll go to deceive?

Who would wish for such a righteous man?
And who will be next to say " "
