In Orbit

Direct Hit!

We left in rocket ships, just like the cartoon strips,
Or movie scripts we've seen up on projection screens

We left the earth for a new place of worth
That we could call our own, without resistance no

And we'll stay up all night before we sleep all day
And forget about our planet, blown away
Cause it's just me and you and a small robot crew
That serves us tea for two in the orbit of the moon

We've got just two months time before rescue arrives,
Our crimes are left behind, we've all got peace of mind

So why should we subject ourselves to the rigor and drudgery of a new world

When we could just stay up all night before we sleep all day
And forget about our planet, blown away
Cause it's just me and you and a small robot crew
That serves us tea for two in the orbit of the moon
