Because Your Light Is Turning Green

Dirty Projectors

When you and the stoplight collide high And then you see your friend walking on the shoulder Do you call her over?

'Cause don't you know that it's selfish?
Because your light is turning green
'Cause don't you know that it's selfish?
Because your light is turning green

When you and I walk each other back Do you make eye contact? No, you avert your eyes They don't meet mine

'Cause don't you know that it's dangerous? Because my light is turning green Because my light is turning green
