

Happening

Dirty Vegas

Break away
Take your space
I don't wanna cry
When I'm in your eyes

Float down
Choke me now
I only wanna die
When I'm in your arms

So tell me what is happening, happening, happening
Tell me what is happening, happening, happening
I'm just trying to understand all the things I need to know

Holding out
I'm holding out for you
To come back to the place we found
When I first looked in your eyes

Blow me now
No gravity to hold
Our feet down to the ground
What is lost can still be found

So tell me what is happening, happening, happening
Tell me what is happening, happening, happening
I'm just trying to understand all the things I need to know
So tell me what is happening, happening, happening
Tell me what is happening, happening, happening
I'm just trying to understand all these feelings that I can't let go

So tell me what is happening, happening, happening...

So tell me what is happening, happening, happening
Tell me what is happening, happening, happening
I'm just trying to understand all these feelings that I can't let go
So tell me what is happening, happening, happening
