

Before You

Disciple

I've heard of Your great fame and Your glory oh God
How You stretched out Your hand to make the waters and the skies
With one Word You spoke out and Your voice created light
And from dust You made man and gave Him the breath of life

There is none to compare to your great love oh God
You alone are worthy of every breath I've got

So God I come before You to worship and adore You
I pray You send Your power
Holy Spirit fall upon me

The whole earth and the heavens sing of Your glory
And the angels all around You are crying out holy
What an awesome God that You are that You even thought of me
For you know me and you love me and You gave me everything
