

Going Home

Disciple

The sky grows black as the earth stands still
And clouds roll back when the Son is revealed

I see Jesus, coming in the Eastern sky to bring His children home

I see Jesus, coming in the Eastern sky I'm going home.

Cars collide and people die, planes fall from the sky
The graves begin to split and seas open wide