

Never Too Late

Disciple

You're seething, you're crashing
Straightjackets are the new fashion
You're trapped in all of your demons
With an open door to your prison
Knock knock is there anybody there
Made a comfortable bed out of your fear
I know it's en vogue to be anxious
Living with an emotional rapist

They say there's no way that people can change
Condemned to make the same mistakes

I don't care what they say
I don't care about the names they rain on you
It's never too late to start again
It's never too late to have faith again
I know the places you've been
I know the shame that is suffocating you
It's never too late to start again
It's never too late if you're breathing

You're bleeding your safety
Your normal is the world's crazy
You can't rely on your secrets
To withhold the truth of your treasons
Knock knocking on the gates of hell
They made a fortune off your wishing well
You can't keep saying you're the victim
When murder weapons are all you keep wielding

They say there's no way that people can change
Condemned to make the same mistakes

I don't care what they say
I don't care about the names they rain on you
It's never too late to start again
It's never too late to have faith again
I know the places you've been
I know the shame that is suffocating you
It's never too late to start again
It's never too late if you're breathing

They say there's no way that people can change
Condemned to make the same mistakes
But it's never too late

I don't care what they say
I don't care about the names they rain on you
It's never too late to start again
It's never too late to have faith again
I know the places you've been
I know the shame that is suffocating you
It's never too late to start again
It's never too late if you're breathing
