

Blame Me

Discrepancies

I've watched you gather up nonsense
Set it on fire creating your own problems
Complain that it burns but still refuse to drop it
If you want to leave my day in ruin well mission accomplished
I offer you the blueprint all you do is knock it
Allergic to solutions addicted to the conflict
Drop it this is just something I can't rock
With I love you to death but your attitudes toxic
Stop it why you gotta wreck my day
Take all of that negative energy and step away
While you're searching for the sympathy I guess you crave
I highly doubt you'll ever find it in the mess you made

Blame me, contain me of my own will
You've sharpened your blade this time
Blame me, restrain me do what you will
A victim of your own crime

I promise if you let it I swear this world will drown you
Let go of the drama you really seem to be bound to Listen, it doesn't always have to come down
To bringing yourself down and everybody around you
Stop it, why you gotta wreck my day
Take all that negative energy and step away
Yo, I'm done with the stress, I love you to death but
I need to cut you out

Blame me, contain me of my own will
You've sharpened your blade this time
Blame me, restrain me do what you will
A victim of your own crime

Yo, shed tears but nothings wrong
Different day same song
Shed tears but there's really nothing wrong
You can still save face just try to remain calm

Stay away from me!
Stay away from me!

Blame me, contain me of my own will
I need to cut you out!

Blame me, contain me of my own will
You've sharpened your blade this time
Blame me, restrain me do what you will
A victim of your own crime
