

Forever

Discrepancies

This week has been crazy, won't even try to unpack it
Some of it good, some of it bad, some of it tragic
Growing up we really think we know it all
You really feel invincible until your heroes fall
I tried to put on my face, but it was way too hard to fake it
I could hardly take it, my body's shaking, yo my heart is aching
Something told me to catch up, told me to pay attention
Told me it was important, the old me just wouldn't listen
We'll hold your memory close until we see you again
And tomorrow, maybe we can try to come to amends
But tonight, we'll toast to all of our fallen family and friends
We'll say

Letting go of what I know
Through our memories you'll live on
Lost without you on my own
Just know that your love keeps us strong

Oh oh oh, you're with me forever
Oh oh oh, you're with me forever

I feel discouraged, I need your courage you know I'm doubtful
I hope you know that this world won't be the same without you
I know you'd want me to smile just know it's hard to cope with
This days the coldest it's hard to focus my heart is broken
I can still hear your laugh, even still see your smile
You just want us to be happy, we refuse to let you down
We'll hold your memories close until we see you again
Tomorrow maybe we can try to come to amends
But tonight we'll toast to all of our fallen family and friends
We'll say

Letting go of what I know
Through our memories you'll live on
Lost without you on my own
Just know that your love keeps us strong

Oh oh oh, you're with me forever
Oh oh oh, you're with me forever

This week has been crazy, I guess I'll try to unpack it
Some of it good, some of it bad, some of it tragic
If I knew the last time I hugged you would be the last time I'd hug you
I would have pulled you in close, I would have told you I love you
Last week I dropped my album, yeah it all starts with bliss
This week I get a call that makes me sick
Neither one of us put in the time, so we're left with this
A father son relationship we'll never get to fix
You made sure you knew I loved you every time that I would visit
But you were always on the go, I was always handling business
No way we can rewind that, no way to get that time back
I'm just happy we had it, the good bad and the tragic

Letting go of what I know
Through our memories you'll live on
Lost without you on my own
Just know that your love keeps us strong

Oh oh oh, you're with me forever
Oh oh oh, you're with me forever
