

Daft Alchemist

Dispatch

Heard of the mountain side, but I'd rather stay in here
Gave me the 9 months, but I wish it was a year
Things were going fine, I liked 'em just they they were
But now I'm running of time, got to march upon the world

What a way to wake up in the world one day
What a way to wake up in the world I dare say
What a way to wake up in the world one day
What a way to wake up in the world and now I'm

I'm not going with you, I got half a crown
I'm not going with you, gonna melt it down

I'm not going, I'm just staying the same

Oh me oh my my, why's it always have to burn
Bye and bye bye always someone got to learn
Everything I thought I knew was blown to smithereens
And I don't what to do now that everything has changed

What a way to wake up in the world one day
What a way to wake up in the world I dare say
What a way to wake up in the world one day
What a way to wake up in the world and now I'm

I'm not going with you, I got half a crown
I'm not going with you, gonna melt it down

What a way to wake up in the world one day
What a way to wake up in the world I dare say
What a way to wake up in the world one day
What a way to wake up in the world and now I'm

I'm not going with you, I got half a crown
I'm not going with you, gonna melt it down

Mine all mine

I'm not going, I'm just staying the same