

Dawn Of Corruption

Distant

A prophecy unspoken
Your blasphemous regicide
The shattered realms as one will unite

When the blood of the seven lords
Befalls and paints the land in black
The Earth shatters
New kingdom will arise anew
The fallen prophets foretold
The fall of the dynasty
The dawn of corruption
The wretch will walk this very land

The cataclysm of this world unfolds
The ashen kingdom shatters
The ancient one is reborn

The hunt for the prince of death
Spreads across the seven realms

The one to bring the royal blood
Is to receive the chalice of Gods
We approach the sacred realm
With our blight, darkness, flesh and bone
Join us in the ways of old
We have come to the void
To the void

Blood of the king is spilt
Soaking the soil of this shattered realm
A new kingdom will rise from the dirt
The reign of the ancients

A prophecy unspoken
Your blasphemous regicide
The shattered realms as one will unite
And rule in the ways of old
When the blood of the seven lords
Befalls and paints the land in black
The Earth shatters
New kingdom will arise anew

You want my crown, come take it
Sycophants and snakes forsaken
Mistaken kindness for weakness
Take another shot at the spot of this juggernaut

I feel my strength drain
I am the father of death
At the end of my reign

The cataclysm of this world
The ashen kingdom shatters
With the Earth
