

I changed motion of our moons
The end of your world is coming, I will make you bow
All souls will be in his possession
For I am Gabraath the only son of a dead king
I will ruin thy kingdom and eat graveborn souls of the lords
I will raise my offering on the corpse of Daath
On my father's crown I promise this

My cyclical death is what brings you here
Again and again, in hope of answers
Thus I do own the portion of your shattered mind
Which you devote to the pursuit of death

We have mourned our Tyrannt within the Void
This is our absolution for the soil of the dead
To wake a war upon the savage mortal lands
To eradicate weakness and dominate the gods to fall

I was named the Devourer of Light
Thus I will consume your sun and eat all your hope within

Hungry for your hope

Eclipse this world

His cyclical death is what brought me here
The end of humankind
Thine fate extinguished
Portals are open between the writhing worlds of ire
My graveborn children will exalt your hallowed lands
