

Human Scum

Distant

Reeking of this prison of bones
I have become the human scum
One with my victims, one of 'em all
I can taste the weakness from within my core

Weakness from within my core
Weakness from within my core

I can't retain my sanity
The umbral arms are trying to reach me

Trying to reach my soul
Can't embrace the succeeding mortality
Trying to eat my flesh
I won't be dethroned again

The sound of misery will forever be my call home
Cut through my veins will leave me hollow

Reeking of this prison of bones
I have become the human scum
One with my victims, one of 'em all
I can taste the weakness from within my core

I can't retain my sanity
The umbral arms are trying to reach my soul

Rise rise
Rise to the sky
And shatter everything above, all that is holy
Rise rise
Into the sky I'm calling
To bring them to their end
Rise rise
Above my children unholy
To free me from this madness

The misery will resonate the horror of the fallen god
Cold touchignites the flame until the human flesh is no more
Feed my blood to your kin until they're painted in red
The night is calling me
Rise to the sky

I come and take, what belongs to me
Say goodbye to my mortality
Say goodbye to the human scum

And shatter the earth
I am reborn
