Distant

Pressure of the fates is weighing me down
Words spoken fail to reach my soul
Shattering of the mind
Forever asking "Why am I even here?"

Pry open my chest
Take out the misery in me
Nobody will ever suffer alone
Share my sorrow, my fear, my pain

Hammer the nails down into my skull
Numb the nerves with never-ending pounding
Have the fractures speak the words my raspy breath can no longer

Pass the grief towards the new beginnings
Savour the thoughts leaving my brain

Overgrow me with thorns and vines
Be my guide into desolate space
Fill the pot of my fathomless sadness
My lungs will be filled with stones

Let me sink
Let me sink back
Let me sink to where I belong
Let me sink
Let me sink back
Let me sink back into hell

The depths of unconquered darkness
Will welcome me home... and let me suffer
The loneliness will carry me to the end with no end
These chains they tear through my skin and make no sound

Relief and no fucking pain
No pain
