

Black Breath

Distinguisher

Perception melted, my eyes bled the room red
The dark pulls me down, prisoner in my own bed
I can't breathe and I can't speak
Why do I feel so weak?
Helpless as I watch him close in
I can feel it underneath my skin

Black breath, black breath
3 am, take my final breath

Climb into bed
Fall asleep don't try and weep
Heart beating through my chest
Hope I get the chance to wake once again

Take a look within my mind
Because there's nowhere inside
Not coated with grime
Shut my eyes, let me die
I can feel death within me

3 am, black breath on my neck
Nowhere to run, nor will I forget this feeling
Of terror in my bones
3:01 enter the void

What I've seen, leaves me wide awake
I'm locked amidst the wave
Who embodies the wraith?

No one but fucking me
Darkness dissolves in me
Unity
Darkness dissolves, become me

Now I can see, unity
Darkness dissolves, become me
