

Isolate

Distinguisher

I'm lost in your afterglow

No sight
No sound
Buried deep within the hole of my heart
My love for you will tear me apart

No sight
No sound
Locked away in a cage
Six feet underground
What was left of you is now a part of me
Isolation; my only release

(Loneliness as the cost of the light in your eyes)
I paid the toll, I wish that I'd died

Attached like a leech
You suck the life from me
Turn my bones into dust as I start to choke
Safety just out of reach

A single moment frozen in place
I would lay my flowers on top of your grave
Not a single part of me knows
If you would do the same

Tell me, would you do the same?

No sight
No sound
Buried deep within the hole of my heart
My love for you will tear me apart

Ripped apart at the seams
What was left of you is a part of me?

Harbinger of sorrow
Disguised as a helping hand

Pain
Loss
Rage
The only things I'll ever need

Hate
Love
Pain
Please just let me breathe

Please just let me breathe

I would lay my flowers on your grave
I don't know if you would do the same
I would lay my flowers on top of your grave
Would you do the fucking same?

Would you do the fucking same?
