

Who Will Be the Next One

Dixie Chicks

I always wanted true love but somehow
I've always failed
If the man I need is looking back at me
I wonder if he'll be the last one for me

To find the man who'll always go my bail
As I look across the room tonight I wonder helplessly
I wonder who will be the next one

That next man who'll sweep me off my feet I hope someday
I find the man who'll give my heart a break
Will he break my heart or love me tenderly

Always want me near and crave the love we make I'm so lonely
Lord, I only wish I knew
Now will he be a friend of mine or maybe someone new
