

The Middle

Dizzy Mizz Lizzy

I'm in the middle
I'm in the middle of everything
Surrounded by your nothing

You're in the corner
You're in the corner letting go
Much to my surprise

Love is forsaken quoth the raven nevermore
I took it for granted for a while
But I'm getting closer to a place I've never been
Closer to you

Say that you don't really need me
Say that you don't really mean it now
And I would feel much better

I'm in the middle
I'm in the middle of changing hue
So much for saturation

You're in the corner
You're in the corner breaking down
I can't connect to you

Love is forsaken quoth the raven nevermore
I took it for granted for a while
But I'm getting closer to a place I've never been
Closer to you

Say that you don't really need me
Say that you don't really mean it now
And I would feel much better

Love is forsaken quoth the raven nevermore
I took it for granted for a while
But I'm getting closer to a place I've never been
Closer to you

Say that you don't really need me
Say that you don't really mean it now
And I would feel much better
