DisConnect

Life's so full of rejection
Its got me feeling Disconnected
No regrets
But we living in the shadow of death
Only question is to ask what's next
Til we DisConnect
Keep it movin', gotta come correct
If you ain't earning, than you singing the check
Let the dots connect
This lifestyle, it ain't just for the best
Grind hard, ain't no time to rest
Til we DisConnect

Lately

My mind's been thinking bout progression
Counting blessing, I ain't trynna live another recession
I'm going deep
Thanking God that I stayed on my feet
Cuz it's a treat, when you victor in the eyes of defeat
Life's sweet
But I feel I'm missing out on my purpose
A missed connection is hard
Like trynna read it in cursive
You see my mental mindset, it keeps setting the image
Black ink with no paper, you would think it's a gimmick
But I'm slippin'
Cuz you the last one to know when you dippin
You put your fate in another man's hands
Oh yeah you trippin
I ain't trynna go out
Without seeing what you all about
Your real intentions could be forged
So I'm having doubts
You got some sinister ways, and then I'm out
Trynna chase a dream while the rest of y'all chasing clout
Y'all can keep the trends, only showing love to popular
A real connection to something
Now that's the cure

DisConnect

Life's so full of rejection
Its got me feeling Disconnected
No regrets
But we living in the shadow of death
Only question is to ask what's next
Til we DisConnect
Keep it movin', gotta come correct
If you ain't earning, than you singing the check
Let the dots connect
This lifestyle, it ain't just for the best
Grind hard, ain't no time to rest
Til we DisConnect

How many times a day, do you really pray
You asking God for help, with no conversation made
Gotta make a play, gotta find a way

It's the circle of life
The same thing, just another day
Gotta get it on yo own
Baby what's a loan
Last time I picked up the phone, I got a dial tone
Cuz ain't nobody tryinna hear it, unless you got some bones
Everybody's got they own struggle, part of being grown
But we gotta connect and re-invest
Life's hard enough, it's like a endless game of chess
If we was there for one another, put the hating aside
Like a new protocol, for real ones to abide by
We could all win and be at the top
But jealousy and envy, got y'all sitting on a rock
Ain't no telling how much time we got
Til we in a box
So make your time count
We disconnect, when death knocks

DisConnect
Life's so full of rejection
Its got me feeling Disconnected
No regrets
But we living in the shadow of death
Only question is to ask what's next
Til we DisConnect
Keep it movin', gotta come correct
