

The Hype

Dizzy Wright

Ay yo Poetics, bring drums in

Getting money can be lonely but this life good
They say a hoe won't hold you down like a wife would
He think that money won't change him but the hype could
He think that money won't change him but the hype could [?] my type's good
Out of sight, out of mind that's a life jugg
He think that money won't change him but the hype could
He think that money won't change him but the hype could

When you first start out nobody's tradable
Got homies on the mission and positions
But the more that you grow the more the come unrelatable
Look, we couldn't predict how it was written
I don't drive to the hole without thinking it's not capable
You fell before you made the decision
Don't be a failure believing that bull junk they try to label you
I feel like I'm coach Prime committed
If this the big leagues, I'm here to dominate
If you ain't down why you giving me the time of day
They say we here for the clicks, we here to motivate
High expectations can't be pushed at a lower rate
What I expect from me is diabolically out of my ideology
My artistry will always speak from the heart but the part that they skip is a part of me
So I ain't giving y'all all of me, I'm learning

Getting money can be lonely but this life good
They say a hoe won't hold you down like a wife would
He think that money won't change him but the hype could
He think that money won't change him but the hype could
[?] my type's good
Out of sight, out of mind that's a life jugg
He think that money won't change him but the hype could
He think that money won't change him but the hype could

Ain't no secret you gon' start transitioning
You only notice when the bullshit that you used to is start looking mad ignorant Tryna take a different approach but the ones that you used to call bro they stop listening
That's when that growing apart phase happens
'Cause us independent niggas won't fuck with the slave masters
So we just all moving different and I get it
You play a small part in this big world
The wins tend to lead to a new world
But your system not build for the big dreams
So the goals that you set make you lose wings
Soon as you reach the level that you wanted
You revert back to your old habits that confuse things
That shoe fit a lot of us even me
But I showed up when y'all needed me

Getting money can be lonely but this life good
They say a hoe won't hold you down like a wife would
He think that money won't change him but the hype could

He think that money won't change him but the hype could
[?] my type's good
Out of sight, out of mind that's a life jugg
He think that money won't change him but the hype could
He think that money won't change him but the hype could