

Wanna Remind You

Dizzy Wright

Yo, proceed to reminisce
Think about my early goals
This journey's been legit
Look at how I touch these souls
Look at how I always handle myself
This don't come lucky, no
Sensitive about my shit
Soul food for the country folks
I was in this funky boat
They like "God dammit, he happy"
Spreading that world peace while they throwing their monkey wrenches at me
No love lost, no monthly distractions we come cross
Wasn't waiting for nothing to jump off
But I took that leap though
We come from zero, nothing, nathan, nada so God is my hero
The black sheep of my family but even family can have the biggest egos
Watch out youngsters, I see you
From Flint to Vegas on my P's and Q's as I keep meeting people
Yeah I'm blessed and peaceful
Be humble, K. Dot style
You wait too long and next thing you know life starts to weigh you down
I believe that praying counts
So count your blessings partner
My voice symbolic
Ask my roster, I always been silent
Before I'm forgotten, I just...

Wanna remind you that we all going through a little something, something, so mething partner
Wanna remind you that we all going through a little something, something
You ain't the only one, you ain't
Wanna remind you that we all going through a little something, something
Better yet when your lifestyle change
Wanna remind you that we all going through a little something, something, so mething partner

Let me make this crystal clear
I'm coming strictly fitted
Like fuck them dress codes, they could miss me with it
I do my thing and them ladies fall down for them hippy spirits
I hop on stage and do my 60 minutes
Pushing that independence
Good weed is all I need
That TGA2 shit gon' get y'all where y'all need to be
I see exactly where I fucked around with make believe
Never take it hard, I just find different ways to take the lead
Doing bad business is a sunken place for me
Never hypnotized unless it's life after death and that's a Biggie album
One time for all of the greats
Sometimes I can't imagine how y'all lived without the space
And I'm not talking about the bigger houses
Sometimes it scares me that the bigger you get, you lock away
But I got a lot to say so they gon' always have a Dizzy album
They gon' remember that I was a man of my word
It's not what you gained or you earned
It's about what you came and you learned
Telling the little homies like...

Wanna remind you that we all going through a little something, something, so mething partner
Wanna remind you that we all going through a little something, something
You ain't the only one, you ain't
Wanna remind you that we all going through a little something, something
Better yet when your lifestyle change
Wanna remind you that we all going through a little something, something, so mething partner

Yo, I hope you see me God
You taught me that holding the throne won't be no easy job
They throwing their sticks and stones but still I remain so peacefully calm
Living in these creepy times
They sleepy, I get noisy
No nigga, you can't avoid me
I'll be there shortly
Flying under the radar, right around the corner
From another brother's story, wishing you glory
I see y'all shining though
Like diamonds on these new age rappers that's been trying to flow
Y'all like my little brothers that looked up and hit the lottery
And that's not being logical
I been connecting the dots like dominos
Gotta count it up yourself yo, or you could be held accountable
This ain't a history lesson nah, more like victory down the road
So
Keep it real, never fade
Who cares as long as they can relate
It's too many people in this world to go one way
The human race is mixed up like liquor
Thinking about it when I wake up tryna get 'em all with us
I know that me and all the homies...

Wanna remind you that we all going through a little something, something, so mething partner
Wanna remind you that we all going through a little something, something
You ain't the only one, you ain't
Wanna remind you that we all going through a little something, something
Better yet when your lifestyle change
Wanna remind you that we all going through a little something, something, so mething partner
